EDITORIAL NOTES

It has grown to be the custom at the beginning of each year for a magazine, however modest its pretensions, to outline its 'policy' and catalog its 'special features' for the volume to come. But this year THE CONDOR will depart from the time-honored usage and will merely state that the six numbers issued during 1903 will be a sufficient guarantee for those to follow, and that if any promises remain unfulfilled these will be amply made good during 1904.

Mr. Frank S. Daggett, owing to his temporary migration to Chicago has resigned the associate editorship of THE CONDOR. The Club extends to Mr. Daggett its best wishes for a prosperous winter, and a speedy return. Mr. R. E. Snodgrass, of Stanford University, with the beginning of this volume assumes the associate editorship from the Northern Division.

We extend to Mr. Louis Agassiz Fuertes our best thanks for the drawing of the California condor, which is shown in the frontispiece of this issue.

The tenth annual meeting was held at the residence of president Henry Reed Taylor in Alameda, Saturday evening, January 9, and was one of the best attended in recent years. The election of officers resulted as follows: president, H. R. Taylor; senior vice-president, R. B. Moran; junior vice-president, Earle Mulliken; treasurer, Joseph Grinnell; secretary, Chas. S. Thompson.

At the annual meeting of the southern Division held January 7, Howard Robertson was elected president, J. Eugene Law, vice-president, Harry Leland, secretary; W. Lee Chambers, division treasurer.

Several members interested in the exchange of bird-skins and eggs, wish to bring out a new edition of Taylor's Catalog. Persons interested are invited to write their ideas of changes in value, etc., to Mr. D. A. Cohen, Alameda, Cal.
